Novelty (N)	Claims	1 - 22	YES
	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	1 - 22	YES
	Claims		NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1 - 22	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)

Reference is made to the following documents:

D1: KR 10-0320494

D2: KR 10-0268604

1. Novelty

The invention as defined in claims 1 to 6 is an apparatus for fabricating a mold comprising a die set, a mold flask, a means for heating die steel, a pressurization plunger installed at a lower side of a reception portion of the die set, a pressure control means and a graphite heat insulating board installed movably in left and right directions between the die steel received in the reception portion and the mold flask.

The inventions as defined in claims 7 to 21 are methods for fabricating a mold using the apparatus of claim 1.

The invention as defined in claim 22 is a method for fabricating a mold comprising several steps, especially using the die steel with a lot of slits formed in a longitudinal direction on a curved surface thereof. The graphite heat insulating board applied in claims 1 to 21 is not found in the documents D1 and D2. The method using the die steel with a lot of slits formed in a longitudinal direction on its curved surface is not found in the documents D1 and D2.

Therefore, the claimed inventions are considered to fulfill the requirement of PCT Article 33(1) and (2).

2. Inventive step

D1 discloses an apparatus and a method for fabricating a mold in the absence of a graphite heat insulating board which can insulate an upper portion of die steel.

D2 discloses a method for fabricating a mold using a semi-solid metal forming method and an apparatus thereof. D2 discloses neither the use of a graphite heat insulating board nor the use of slit-formed die steel.

Therefore, the new features of embodying a graphite heat insulating board and using slit-formed die steel can be considered as inventive.

3. Industrial applicability

All claims are considered to be industrially applicable.
